No matter the size or scope of the organization, contracts form the backbone of the business. When a contract is broken, however, the organization can suffer a loss of productivity or other significant impact. Whether you are drafting a contract, need a contract interpreted or you are pursuing litigation, an experienced attorney can provide the honest, assertive guidance you need.

At Meyner and Landis LLP, we have extensive experience litigating clients' rights and responsibilities arising out of contracts. Virtually every commercial case involves contracts including:

- Construction contracts
- Warranties
- Fee agreements
- Trust agreements
- Goods and/or services agreements

It is not uncommon for a dispute to arise out of differences in interpretation of a contract. Whether the contract contained vague terms or certain scenarios were simply not addressed in writing, our lawyers can provide the representation you need to find a beneficial resolution.
